Language teaching in Switzerland – overview

Becoming a teacher

---

"The training of teaching staff for primary school level (including kindergarten or a first learning cycle), lower secondary level, Baccalaureate schools, upper secondary specialised schools and teaching professions in the field of special needs education is provided by universities - mostly universities of teacher education."

Developing language teaching

The milestones of the strategy for the development of language teaching (EDK 2004, 2013) are...

...improving language learning as a whole

...benefit better from the potential offered by previous language learning

...respect Switzerland's multilingualism

...remain competitive in the European context

Implementing language teaching

The cantons are recommended to contribute to good teaching conditions by...

- ...ensuring equal opportunities and achievement of basic competences in the national languages
- ...supporting transitions between school levels (didactic and methodological continuity)
- ...ensure alignment of assessment with the objectives of foreign language teaching
- ...provide teaching materials aligned with the regional curricula, allow internal differentiation
- ...giving schools freedom in the organisation of teaching

Immersion/CLIL

"[...]l'enseignement bilingue permet de développer de bonnes compétences langagières [...] mais il est important de bien réfléchir à la manière d'enseigner et aux stratégies qui peuvent aider les élèves dans un environnement riche, à la fois sur le plan langagier et disciplinaire."

Translation: "Bilingual teaching helps to develop good language skills [...] but it is important to think carefully about how to teach and the strategies that can help pupils in a rich environment, both in terms of language and subject matter."

Heritage

---

"Allerdings ist ein Einbezug der Herkunftssprachen nicht zwingend auch mit einer grösseren Wertschätzung dieser Sprachen seitens der Mitschüler:innen verbunden."

Translation: "However, the inclusion of the languages of origin is not necessarily associated with a greater appreciation of these languages on the part of the pupils."

Differentiation

"Zweisprachige Schülerinnen und Schüler, die in der Deutschschweiz eingeschult werden und mit Französisch als Familiensprache aufwachsen, stellen einen Sonderfall von "Herkunftssprechende im Fremdsprachenunterricht""

Translation: "Bilingual pupils who start school in the German-speaking part of Switzerland and grow up with French as their family language are a special case of 'speakers of origin in foreign language teaching'."

Orality

---

"[...] quel oral enseigner ? Comment l'enseigner ? Avec quelle(s) ressource(s) ?"

Translation: "[...] What oral language should be taught? How should it be taught?
What resources should be used?"

skills and further development*

Double profile

How can research and language teaching practice remain in constant dialogue?

An example: Pilot-project QUATTRO (PHGR, University of teacher education, Canton of Grisons), encourages the development of a «double competence profile» (collaborative development and testing of didactic models and materials in Italian as an L2 subject)

English

"[...] tension that might arise in English lessons in a state school of a non-English speaking country, for example in Switzerland, when a teacher is confronted by an English-speaking child who corrects their English"

Exchanges

"Et enfin, existe-t-il des possibilités de valoriser l'engagement en faveur de la mobilité, puisque celui-ci implique un investissement important ? Par exemple, en déchargeant ces enseignant·e·s de leurs autres tâches quotidiennes ou en les rémunérant davantage ?"

Translation: "And finally, are there ways of rewarding the commitment to mobility, since it involves a major investment? For example, by relieving these teachers of their other day-to-day tasks or by paying them more?"
