Making a birthday cake for dear granny
Had a terrible sneezing cold
Ran out of sugar
Wasn't too bright either
Had been home the whole time
A perfectly good ham dinner lying there in the straw
Was a little smarter
Rang the bell
When the dust cleared
Food will spoil if you leave it out in the open
Did the only thing there was to do
Don't bother me again
Talk about impolite!
Probably had a whole sackful of sugar
Usually a pretty calm fellow

Went a little crazy

When the cops drove up

Didn't sound very exciting

So they jazzed up the story

Huffing and puffing and sneezing and making a real scene

I'll let you in on a little secret

Nobody has heard my side of the story

A house out of straw

A big cheeseburger just lying there

He must have been the brains of the family

The news reporters found out what had happened

A house out of bricks
